But, no one likes the waiting game, right?

Since we know that it is completely impossible to win the competition for the organic search traffic in a specific niche without the initiation of the quality links, so let us find out what can be done to move the way with the techniques.

The broken link building process

For a long time and work, any of the reasons, the pages on the website of competitors are often deleted. Half of the times a complete website turns often lined whenever a business closes the shop. During this process, the link moving towards the deleted pages or website is said to be broken. While observing this scenario, an individual non-existing competitor website page can have hundreds to more than a thousand broken links point towards them. The user's responsibility here is to make usage of the tools like Ahrefs or the other ones for searching out and working for the replacement with the help of outreach.

Brand Mentions

Whenever people state the brands in their blog posts or other places on the internet, it indicates awareness. These are the right link building approaches that can raise the referring domain count over time. Unluckily, there is a rare possibility of keeping the tabs on every web destination wherever people have mentioned or are mentioning the name of their brand. With various tools like Awarior and Mention, one can start to get real-time alerts whenever someone mentioned the name of the brand from the links involved in this type of alert.

Giveaways

This can be a great tool, information-rich report of industry or an embedded infographic. These kinds of things can move towards the command quality backlinks freely. At some point in time, you can freely decide to do a level of promotion for similar people to be aware of the resources.

Exploration of backlinks

Most of the competitors who rank on the first and foremost page of Google are mainly present there for a reason. There is no possibility of the links being present by any chance. Another clear indication regarding the same is that Google respects every type of backlink that is pointing towards their website. Rather than doing the guesswork, it is better to look out for the link research tool for the competitors.

Link Rounds

More than half of the brands have the approach of a collection of links so that they can lead towards the resources and some amazing news in the industry itself. One of the most interesting things about the same is that the overall links of the websites collected by us are reciprocated by sharing the content that undertakes the expansion of opportunities for the people out there. It is helpful for them to search and link to the website. But, the main motive is to search for the website in the genre that does a lot of link rounds up. Try to reach out and provide suggestions for similar resources, content, or tools on the website.

The special technique

There is no doubt about the fact that the competitors ranking on the first page of Google can be an original pointer on the implementation process of the entire link building technique. The name of the technique has been taken from the name of an SEO expert Brian Dean. It is a complete process of looking into the pieces of content that rank for the targeted keywords. Creation of better content like rising the word count, the addition of better images, expert quotes, statistics, better links, and infographics.

Fruitful Research

Viewing the advanced link creation technique is not all for writing a generic ebook if the purpose is the generation of lead. The main thing about real research is that it bestows the brand with a distinctive opportunity for sharing insightful revelations related to the industry. The great distinctiveness is something that attracts many people for linking to the actual research reports naturally.
